TEACHER: We all know about how Harry Potter defeated Voldemort once before the final battle in the year 2000. You know, in the year 1981 when he became the boy who lived and got his scar? Well, 10 years passed before he turned 11 and was visited by good old Hagrid. 10 whole years of Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry…ever wonder what happened in those 10 years?

SCENE ONE

LINDERINA: The final was between Canada and Scotland.

ELORA: Canada won with 270 points, while Scotland had 240.

PENNY: The match went on for five full days.

ISMELDA: It was a bitter disappointment for Scotland, as Scottish Seeker Hector Lamont missed the Golden Snitch by millimeters.

PENNY: In a post-match interview, Lamont blamed his father "Stubby" Lamont for not giving him longer fingers.

ELORA: This concludes our week long, daily updates on the 421st Quidditch World Cup…

ISMELDA: (snarkily as a side comment) If only Hogwarts esteemed faculty and alumni would let us play, we'd show Lamont what a seeker really looks like…

LINDERINA: (to ISMELDA) Hogwarts? I blame the Ministry.

PENNY: Speaking of the Ministry and Hogwarts alum, Hufflepuff, Cornelius Fudge has just been named the new Minister of Magic!

ELORA: Give a warm welcome to the Minister!

(no one claps)

CORNELIUS: Greetings, bright young witches and wizards!

CHIARA: Boo!

CORNELIUS: We have all overcome so much since the downfall of You-Know-Who just a few years ago. I thank you and your parents for trusting in me to guide you through the next decade and into the new millennium soon! I will now be taking questions.

CHARLIE: Scotland should've won!

CORNELIUS: Yes, we are all very saddened by Scotland's loss, but proud of our friends in Canada!

ANGELINA: Bring back Quidditch!

ALICIA: Quidditch, Quidditch, Quidditch!

PATRICIA: Quidditch, Quidditch-

(she faints and FRED and GEORGE drag her off)

STUDENTS: (everyone begins chanting)

CORNELIUS: Students! Students!

MCGONAGALL: (pointing her wand at her neck) Students!

(everyone goes silent)

CORNELIUS: Thank you, Minerva. After the recent discoveries around the school, Quidditch is far too dangerous a game to allow back to Hogwarts at this time. Do not fret, it is only temporarily disbanded as we have a carefully constructed team devising a course of action as we speak to deal with the matter at hand. Please direct further questions to Professor McGonagall or Madame Hooch and feel free to send an owl for anything you may need from the Ministry!

(blackout, and up on students walking to and from stage left and right while Harry's Wondrous World plays, FRED and GEORGE follow an odd looking map, as the set transitions to GREAT HALL with tables set)
